Tobacco is a very labor intensive crop that requires many workers for harvesting since it is often done by hand.

Once the large leaves are picked from the plant, they will be hung to dry and cure. Afterwards, they will be baled and shipped to the purchaser.

The “Tobacco Belt” is considered to be along the Virginia - North Carolina line.